To Whom It May Concern:

The Public Service Commission of Maryland ("Commission") is seeking an expert cost of service consultant to assist its Technical Staff ("Staff") in its analysis of the cost of service study of a natural gas distribution system in the upcoming application by Washington Gas Light Company's request for an increase to its base rates, which was filed on April 22, 2019. The consultant sought should have experience in analyzing the cost of service studies of gas systems from a public policy perspective, and an understanding of best practices around the country. The scope of work is to analyze the documentation filed in the application and by other parties, to assist in the preparation of any discovery questions in order to provide more information for the analysis in the areas of concern, to work with Staff to create an outline of proposed testimony, to work with Staff to produce several rounds of written testimony, to potentially testify at hearings, to provide assistance on cross examination of other witnesses, to attend case strategy meetings (remotely or in person, as needed) and to assist Staff in the preparation of briefs.

The Commission has 210 days after the filing of a rate application to render a final order.
