Maryland PSC Announces Appointment, New Hire

(BALTIMORE, MD-May 13, 2016)–The Maryland Public Service Commission (PSC) announces that Morris Schreim, most recently the PSC's Chief Engineer, has been appointed Senior Commission Advisor. As the Commission's advisor on matters related to PJM and the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Schreim will assume the duties of Walter Hall who departed the Commission this past year. Schreim, who has been with the PSC since 2013, lives in Montgomery County.

Andrew Dodge will fill the Chief Engineer and Director of Emergency Management position vacated by Schreim. Dodge advanced through positions of increasing responsibility throughout his career, culminating with his service at Baltimore Gas and Electric Company as the Vice-President of Technical Services, the position from which he retired in December 2015.

He earned a bachelor's degree with honors in electrical engineering from the University of Maryland College Park, and a master's degree in electrical engineering from George Washington University. Dodge is also a Registered Professional Engineer in Maryland. He lives in Carroll County.

The PSC's Engineering Division monitors the operations of utilities for safety, efficiency, reliability and quality of service. The Chief Engineer is also the liaison to the Maryland Emergency Management Agency and participates in emergency preparedness and response efforts.
